1. In addition to its announced decisions, the Political Committee<sup>1</sup> of the Islamic Conference also agreed to the following:
  - a. Object to the annexation of Arab Palestine by any country (i.e., Jordan);
  - b. Remove the Jordan National Guard, which is responsible for the Israeli frontier security, from the control of the Arab Legion and place it under the control of the inhabitants of West Jordan;
  - c. Name the Arab Higher Committee<sup>(AHC)</sup> as the group responsible for negotiating concerning the future of Palestine.
2. Upon learning of the Political Committee's decisions as described in ~~Sanatashava~~, King Husayn interpreted it as an effort to invite Haj Amin al-Husayni to return to Jordan. King Husayn became angry and toyed with the idea of discharging Prime Minister Fawzi Mulqi.
3. The Prime Minister subsequently sent for Shaykh Muhammad Ali Sabarri<sup>3</sup>, the mayor of Hebron, Shaykh Abd-al-Hamid as-Sayyih, and Shaykh 'Abdullah Ghoshah, and instructed them to have the Conference change its resolution welcoming the return of the Mufti and the AHC<sup>4</sup> to Palestine.

Field Comments:

2. Shaykh Mohammad Ali Jabarri pointed out that the Mufti made his trip to Damascus during the meetings of the Conference in order to be nearby in the event it should become possible for him to return. Jabarri, an old opponent of the Mufti, described him as a Nero who is playing the violin while the Palestinians burn.
3. Jabarri reported to Glubb Pasha that Kamal 'Ara'at, Member of Parliament from Jerusalem, enthusiastically approved of the three decisions noted in Para. 1 above. 'Ara'at, according to Jabarri, hopes to be named Commander of the National Guard in the event the Guard is placed under the control of Palestine. 'Ara'at gained considerable fame among the Palestinians for his courageous fighting on the Bethlehem road in 1948.
4. During the Conference, while Kamal 'Ara'at's expectations were high, he met Minister of Interior Hazza Majalli and, alluding to an old Arab proverb, pointed out that "I am the owner of the horse," (This old Arab proverb means that the owner of the horse is the man with power.) Majalli stated, "Perhaps you are the owner of the horse but the horse (i.e., the Mufti) is not here."
